MATTINGS

We just happened to pick up a small lot of Matting the other day (only 40 pieces). We got it cheap and have placed it on sale in our Carpet Department at special prices for week:

The Best 100-Pound China Matting,

Worth 25c, at 20c.

Carpet Patterns--In Good Warf Matting, Worth 25c,

At 19 Cts.

J. H. Anderson & Co.

Just as a Starter
How is This

For $37.50?

It ought to bring $50. Others would ask that for it. If you don't say it is the

Nicest Job You
Ever Saw

For that money we will not argue the question at all.

STRONGER MARKET.

Considerable Animation Displayed on Local Breaks.

Heavy Sales of the Weed, Which Is In Good Order For Handling.

The local tobacco market this week was stronger, considerable more animation being displayed, and there were also more buyers on the breaks than for some weeks.

Sales were considerably in excess of those of last week and prices were considered good.

The weed is sweating nicely and is in much better order than it has been. Rejections were not so large as on some former occasions.

It develops that the crop of 1901 is the most useful one raised in this district for years and a still better demand may be looked for.

Receipts are not quite so heavy as they were a few weeks ago, owing to the fact that a large percent of the crop has been delivered.

Common to good lugs ranged in price from $4.50 to $6.00. Common leaf brought from $5.75 to $6.75. Medium leaf went off at from $6.00 to $7.00, good leaf ranged from $7 to $9, and the price on selection, was from $10 to $12.

The loose market is still active with a good stock on hand.

BLACKBERRY WINTER,
Came This Year Without the Usual Berry Bloom.

Blackberry winter, although about a week later than usual, was ushered in Monday afternoon and the temperature dropped about 40 degrees in twenty-four hours. This is one of the few years in which this cool season prevailed without the usual blackberry bloom. While there are a few blooms scattered over the bushes in some places, blossoms are scarcer than for several years, and the prospects are that the crop of berries will be very short. Many of the bushes were broken off by the heavy sleet and the cold weather in December last also injured them. While the mercury went down in the forties Tuesday night vegetation was not damaged. In some places frost was reported, but it was too light to nip vegetables.

HIS CHILD
Shot Through the Heart During a Family Quarrel.

Cadiz, Ky., May 27.—Lee Williams colored, living four miles out of here, shot his two-year-old child through the heart yesterday, killing it instantly. Williams claims to have shot the child accidentally. He was brought here last night by Deputy Sheriff Mitchell and lodged in jail.

CLASS ENTERTAINED.
Miss Edmundson's Reception to S. K. C. Graduates.

Miss Mattie Edmundson, one of the graduating class of South Kentucky College, gave a reception last evening complimentary to the members of her class and it was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. Delightful refreshments were a pleasant feature of the affair.

HIT WITH HATCHET.

Young Man Charges he Was Victim of Assault.

Atlas Mayers, aged 19, living a few miles east of Crofton, charges that he was struck in the face with a hatchet by a man named Bond and badly hurt. A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Bond.

BETHEL COLLEGE.

Closes a Very Successful and Prosperous Session.

Eight Young Lady Graduates Receive Their Diplomas Wednesday Night.

Beginning Monday night with the rendition of "The Spanish Lady," the closing exercises of Bethel Female College were concluded Wednesday night at the college.

"The Spanish Lady" was composed by Miss Ione Newman. The leading character of Ximena was taken by Miss Elizabeth Drake, of the college faculty.

Other characters were sustained by Misses Louise Carr, Ida Schaefer, Mary Wright, Polly Graves, Jessie Garrett, Ethyl Frost and Georgia Rushing, and a large chorus of good spirits and Spanish maidens.

The young ladies all acquitted themselves most handsomely and the large audience gave them unstinted applause.

Tuesday night at the Baptist church Dr. John O. Rust delivered the baccalaureate address to the young ladies.

His theme was "The New Heavens," which he divided into four parts—materialism, aestheticism, occultism and socialism.

Heathens were defined as godless persons and the tenor of his address was to show that the reckless pursuit of wealth, the devotion to aesthetics, the encouragement given to fortune telling, hypnotism and such things and finally the tendency to a socialistic contempt for law and property rights, were all matters essentially antagonistic to godliness. The address was listened to with much attention by a large and cultured audience. It was delivered in the eloquent young divine's best style of oratory, and was rendered especially entertaining by occasional anecdotes and humorous illustrations.

At the College on Wednesday night the commencement exercises proper were held and the chapel would not hold the large crowds present, the parlors and halls being filled with the overflow crowd.

Eight young ladies were given diplomas as follows:

Piano—Dell Gaines, Georgia Rushing, Ida Schaefer.

Bachelor of Arts—Patty Bartley, Dell Gaines, Mable Hille and Daisy Williams.

Master of Arts—Miriam Eades, Frances Huddleston.

The following musical program was given before the diplomas were awarded by Pres. Edmund Harrison:

The Bee and the Clover. . . . .

Slavonic Dance. . . . .

In Line of March. . . . .

Theme and Variations in B (flat).

Major. . . . .

Invitation to the Dance. . . . .

Ballads in A (flat) Major. . . . .

Hark, Hark, the Lark. . . . .

Miss Miriam Eades

The distinctions in the various classes were read by Prof. W. H. Harrison, who acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The entertainment closed with the very scholarly and appropriate address of the President to the graduating class.

At ten o'clock the audience was dismissed and the parlors turned over to the young people, who for an hour or more participated in a reception to the graduates and other young lady pupils. This delightful affair closed the exercises.

Gen. Leonard Wood, late governor of Cuba, who was an army surgeon four years ago, is now being boomed by the Republican organs as the successor to Gen. Miles.

SPEAKING MONDAY.

Congressional Candidates Will Open Local Campaign.

Stanley 'Authorizes' Announcement That he Will Speak—Taylor and Brasher Expected.

The somewhat listless congressional campaign will be opened actively in this county next Monday. Hon. A. O. Stanley, the Henderson candidate, authorizes the announcement that he will speak and he extends an invitation to his competitors to accept a division of time. It is more than likely that Judge Taylor and Mr. Brasher will be on hand. The latter is just recovering from a severe illness, and if his health permits, he will certainly be present.

As it is circuit court day a large crowd is certain to be on hand to hear the speaking.

Brasher Will Speak.

Mr. John B. Brasher authorizes us by telephone to make an appointment for him to speak at the court house Monday afternoon at one o'clock. Mr. Brasher will resume his campaign with a speech at Sebree tomorrow.

OUT ON BOND.

One of Miller Brothers Furnished Bail for Appearance.

C. J. Miller, one of the men arrested here last Friday morning on a charge of counterfeiting, furnished bond yesterday and was released from jail. He gave bond for $1,000 to answer any indictment that might be found by the grand jury and a $500 bond for his appearance before the Federal court at Owensboro.

An Agent of the Secret Service was here and secured photographs of the Millers. J. P. Millers is still in jail.

ONLY EIGHT FAILED

Out of 31 Applicants For Certificates.

The county board of examiners has finished grading the papers of the 31 white applicants for teachers' certificates who were examined about two weeks ago. Out of the total number five secured first class certificates, 13 second class, 5 third class and eight failed. The papers of the 34 colored applicants have not yet been graded.

The Ax Handle plant of J. W. Harned & Bro., to which the KENTUCKIAN called the attention of the Commercial Club a month ago, has been induced to locate here. Work will begin soon.

EXCELLENT SEASON

A Big Per Cent. of Tobacco Crop Set.

About 75 per cent. of the tobacco has been set in this county, it is estimated and with another season the work of transplanting will be finished.

In some sections, where the rains were heavy, the farmers have finished putting out their crop. There are a few neighborhoods where no rain of consequence fell, but in such unfavorable spots the plants have been set and watered.

The acreage will be larger than last year.

RECEPTION LAST EVENING

Complimentary to Misses Huddleston and Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Meacham received last evening in honor of their guests, Misses Frances Huddleston, of Atlanta, Ga., and Ethyl Frost, of Dallas, Texas, recently pupils of Bethel Female College. The younger set of society was well represented, a number of the school girls of the college delaying their departure a day to attend. Refreshments were served.

DECORATION DAY.

Graves of Union Soldiers Will be Decorated.

Today being Decoration Day is a National holiday. The decoration of the graves of Union soldiers buried in Hopewell cemetery will take place at 3 o'clock. Visitors are requested to bring floral offerings and be there at that hour. Mr. John Feland will be master of ceremonies and Messrs. Stanley Long and Chas. O. Prowse will deliver addresses.

VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Reed Renshaw, Jr., Died After Long Illness.

W. R. Renshaw, Jr., died last Monday morning at the home of his parents in this city of consumption. He was 17 years old and had been sick for several months. Rev. H. C. Beckett preached the funeral at Consolation church Monday afternoon and the interment took place in the Adams burying ground, three miles north of the church.

YOUNG FARMER

Succumbs to Attack of Typhoid Pneumonia.

James H. Clark, son-in-law of Mr. Sam Dillard, formerly of this county, died near Guthrie Tuesday, of typhoid pneumonia.

He was 37 years old and survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Pearl Dillard, and three small children.

THE THERMOMETER.

Interesting Facts Showing Its Great Importance in Many Branches.

On the ordinary thermometer may be read, opposite the figures, two statements of opinion and two of fact. The former are of little importance; whether 76 is "summer heat" and a few degrees lower "temperate" depends largely on the locality. But the two fixed facts that water freezes at 32 degrees above zero, and that the temperature of the body is 98.6, says the Youth's Companion, exercise a controlling influence over many of the affairs of life. And while the whole face of the instrument might be dotted with other interesting signs, such as the boiling point of water and other liquids, and the freezing points of various liquids, these facts concerning blood and water are the prime essentials.

The freezing point of water is at the basis of many industrial processes; it must be constantly watched. When freezing weather is threatened the familiar suction pump is allowed to "run down," or the valves in unprotected water pipes are closed. In house building the mason goes below the point to which frost ever penetrates to get a good foundation. Most pipes also have to be laid below the frost line. Above it winter is continually disintegrating the earth as with millions of little charges of dynamite. Water, because it expands in freezing, tends to break up everything into the crevices of which it penetrates. "Below the frost line" has thus become in literature a recognized figure for security of foundations.

When called to see a patient, the physician takes out his "clinical thermometer." Placed under the sick man's tongue, it registers the bodily temperature. This feature maintains, through the perspiration, at such a delicate balance that the variation of a degree is significant. Successive changes in the temperature of the body reveal much as to the course of a malady.

Zero, like many other popular standards, is arbitrary in its origin. It is the temperature obtained by mixing ice and salt, which Fahrenheit supposed to be the extreme of cold.

The centigrade instrument, used in scientific research and in metric system countries, divides the interval between the freezing and the boiling point of water into 100 parts.

YOUNG AMER. CA.

Little Johnny Punished—He Makes a "Suggestion" to His Sister.

The spirit of literary thrives sturdy in the heart of the average American boy. If there was any doubt of this in a certain locality in Georgetown it was dispelled the other day, says the Washington Star by the conduct of a young American who is about nine years old.

His mother had come upon the boy and his sister quarreling, had heard the two call each other "Meanie" and "Two-face" and had sent the children to bed with about these words: "Go right to bed, both of you. I don't want to hear a word from either one of you. John, I shall keep you in your room all day to-morrow, and Elizabeth, I shall keep you home from your cousin's. Now go right off to bed."

That night when the mother went to her room she found a note written in blue pencil, on a page from a table. There were many corrections, but she made out its text as follows:

"There are always two sides to a story. I would like to make a suggestion, namely, 'If I were you I would not act so rash before the second side is heard from.' I hope you will not call this impudence. I must close, as it is getting late and I have formed my plan for amusing myself to-morrow according to your first proposition. Yours, truly, John Ward."

For Young Farmers.

A Keytesville (Mo.) mercantile firm has offered three prizes, of $20, $10 and five dollars, to public school boys of legal age who raise the best half-acre of corn in Chariton county this year, preparing, planting and cultivating the crop themselves. Each contestant must prepare an essay not exceeding 1,000 words, explaining how he did his work, and giving reasons for his methods. Choice selections from each crop harvested for this contest will be preserved for exhibition as part of Missouri's fair in 1903.

A NEW ANESTHETIC.

It is Obtained from an Indian Plant and is Known as "Gau-basu."

A new local anesthetic obtained from an Indian plant, called "gau-basu," has recently been submitted to careful examination by some Hungarian dentists, says the London Lancet. The anesthetic action of this substance was discovered a year ago by a dentist in Flume, Dr. D. Dalma, who tried the effect of gau-basu in cases of painful pulpitis, and recommended it as a powerful agent which might replace arsenic in the treatment of that condition. Dr. Dalma also separated the active principle of the plant, which proved to be an alkaloid, and in his later experiments he used it as obtained by treating the alkaloid with hydrochloric acid. This salt has been named "nervocidine."

In weak solutions (one-tenth or one-twentieth per cent.) nervocidine produced a marked local anesthesia of the corner of worm-bitten animals. Two drops of a one-twentieth per cent. solution applied to the human conjunctiva produced a burning sensation accompanied by lachrymation and followed after 20 minutes by anesthesia of the cornea lasting for five hours. After seven hours the cornea regained normal condition. A one-tenth per cent. solution of nervocidine brushed over the mucous membrane of the cheek induced local anesthesia of the buccal surface and of the tongue, terminated by loss of the sensation of taste and the perception of touch, but without loss of the perception of heat or cold.

HOW DOCTOR BECAME KNOWN.

Pointed His House an Outlandish Color for Advertising Purposes.

A West side physician has hit upon a novel way of attracting attention to his office and setting the tongues of gossip wagging. Recently he had his house—a frame structure—painted a most outlandish color. The shade of the paint on the building proper had been enough, but the border and the color with which he had the veranda decorated are infinitely worse.

The other day a neighboring druggist, referring to the fact that people were commenting on the appearance of his house, asked the doctor why he had chosen so odd a color.

"Well, you see," replied the disciple of Esculapian, "people will talk about Dr. Blank anyway, so I thought I would give them something to talk about."

JAPAN'S LEADING ACTOR.

Peculiarities of the Stage in the Flowery Kingdom.

Japan has a leading actor whose place at the head of his profession is as indisputed as Sir Henry Irving's in the theatrical world in England. Ichikawa Danjuro is now 63. His ancestors were on the stage more than 200 years ago, and theater folks in Japan accept him as worthily upholding the family traditions.

On Broadway theatrical precedence regulates itself. They order these things differently in Japan. There is a real theatrical aristocracy in the Flowery land.

Its members are called "nada." None may be of their number who has not had the good fortune to inherit a great name, like Ichikawa Danjuro, or to have been adopted into some famous theatrical family.

Middle class actors may have their merits, but they cannot hope to become nada on them, and to enjoy the attendant privileges. The principal of these are that they are entitled to advertise their names on the play boards over the theater doors, and there are only five actors who have it. Danjuro is easily head of the five, says the New York Sun.

For a century and a quarter this has been a stock play sure to draw full houses when all others fail. Danjuro has played the part 78 times, which, in Japan, where audiences demand variety in repertoire and lots of it, is considered a remarkable record.

Acting in Japan isn't easy either on players or audience. In Tokio, where foreign methods are revolutionizing all things, including the stage, they have got the length of the performances down to about eight hours. But in the interior playgoers insist on getting their money's worth—that is, 15 hours of theatricals at a gulp.

For the relief of everybody concerned, a day's performance is rarely occupied by a single play. There are generally parts of two or three plays run on the stage in succession.

First there are usually played parts of two historical masterpieces. Then comes a domestic drama, picturing the life of the common people, their pleasures and tribulations. Finally, there is a scene in which dancing is the chief feature. So everybody gets something to his taste.

It is rare to see Japanese women on the stage with men. Usually men play the women's parts, and they frequently show remarkable skill in impersonating women.

Most Japanese actors acquire a habit of declaiming in a voice of peculiar register, and one of the results is that the foreigner has great difficulty in determining whether it is a man or a woman who is performing the woman's part.

DRAWING THE COLOR LINE.

White and Brown Don't Have Little to Do With Each Other.

Do animals draw the color line? From the clannish way in which the fallow deer in Central park menagerie have lately conducted themselves, says the New York Times, this would certainly seem to be the case.

About six weeks ago a new brown buck was added to the fallow collection, which consisted of two or three brown deer and some half dozen albinos. Through interbreeding the flock had deteriorated until only a few remained to remind one of the fine buck who was master of the flock up to about five years ago. At that time the herd became too numerous, and the lordly buck, with about a dozen of his consorts, was removed to Van Cortlandt park. From the advent of the new buck up to about three weeks ago all went well. Then, however, the director of the menagerie decided to weed out the poor stock and replenish the herd from Van Cortlandt park, and brought down some half dozen fine brown does.

The brown buck seemed at once to build up his new subjects and to take up a kingdom among those of his own color, and the stock of the white, or albino, deer took a sudden drop. Many times a day now the flock can be seen divided, the white deer standing by themselves at one end of the paddock, and the brown, in company with the lordly buck at another. This is particularly noticeable when the approach of a keeper or anything to attract the attention of the herd occurs.

The brown deer at once flock around the buck, and the white ones crowd together at a distant part of the paddock.

The First-born

A mother's feeling for her first-born child can never be exactly duplicated. Even when that child represents the sacrifice of health and a life-long invalidism, the inexhaustible tenderness of the mother's heart ceaselessly overflows to it in longing for its happiness. Such cases are not uncommon. How often have we heard it said of some invalid wife, "She was never well after her first child was born." Many a woman, too, with the maternal instinct strong within her, is told by physicians that in her condition motherhood means the risk of life. It is because of these things that many a young mother approaches the hour of her trial with dread. Will she be the joyful mother of children, or will she be doomed to life-long weakness and misery as the consequence of maternity? Those questions can be answered positively in the cases of forty-nine out of fifty women. Motherhood is perfectly prepared for and made practically painless by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The greatness of this statement comes not only when it is remembered that this practically painless maternity is the consequence of increased physical strength and great muscular elasticity, which result from the use of "Favorite Prescription." The use of opiates at the critical time might make the mother unconscious of pain, but the physical strain and loss and depletion would exist just the same. The use of "Favorite Prescription" does not dull pain, but practically does away with it. It promotes the health of the whole physical organism, and enables the accomplishment of the maternal function in a natural and easy manner.

"I had poor health for nine years (ever since the birth of my child)," writes Mrs. Arminie Watkins, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. When I wrote I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines to a number of my friends, and they think there never were such medicines in the world. I think so myself. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription,' five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of 'Pellets.'"

"After my baby came, in January, 1900," writes Mrs. Nancy Abner, of St. Paul, Ark. "I suffered severely from all sorts of aches and pains until the following May, when I read one of your pamphlets treating on female diseases. I wrote to you for advice, although I thought surely I would die, as our physician told me I was more liable to die than to get well, your fatherly advice caused my health to be restored. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of 'Pellets,' together with your other remedies, and I am now able to do all my work."

"I have before written you of the great benefit both myself and family have received from your most excellent medicine," says Mrs. P. S. Peterson, of Welcome, Wis. "I have since tested its wonderful powers in the case of the coming of my fifth child. Took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' the first two months, and three of 'Favorite Prescription' the last two months. It saved me so much terrible suffering that I consider it a heavenly blessing."

In one form or another these testimonials have been repeated by hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women who have found in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, new health and new life. It has brought women up from sick-beds who had no more hope of recovery than the prisoner under sentence of death has of reprieve. It has cured every form of womanly disease curable by medicine.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. Taken as a preparative for maternity it gives strength of body and confidence of mind, and makes the baby's advent practically painless. It is unexcelled as a tonic for nursing mothers and all weak, nervous and run-down persons. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so avoid the offensive examinations, indelicate questionings and obnoxious local treatments which the home physician often deems necessary. All letters written to Dr. Pierce are treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reputable physician, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you may possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney, and Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. ## Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long. The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

The action of the Second Railroad district committee, in calling a convention to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner thirteen months ahead of the election, is unprecedented in Kentucky. The candidates are forced to enter the race by July 1, 1902. If any part of the State ticket is to be nominated this year, it would be better to have all of it named together, and then no particular aspirant could be benefited by a snap convention for any one office. Ring rule is unpopular.

"The Ever Faithful Isle."
Cuba has been known the world over as "The Ever Faithful Isle," a name it received at the time the Spanish Bourbons were deposed by Napoleon in 1808. At that time each member of the provincial Cuban council took an oath to preserve the island for its legitimate sovereign. The island contributed voluntarily $500,000 to the Spanish treasury during the Napoleonic wars and declared war against France for depriving the Spanish sovereign. For such fidelity the Cuban people were rewarded by having taken away from them the rights of their provincial council, and imposing upon them a line of capricious generals whose despotic rule continued down to the day this country wrested the colony from the hands of the Dons.

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—At a meeting of President Baxter and other directors of the Tennessee Central railroad held here today the letting of the contract to W. J. Oliver & Co., for the construction of the line to Clarksville, was ratified. What is known as the river route has been selected.

Wont Follow Advice After Paying For It.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patients to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, merely the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. K. Wily.

Robert, the little son of Mr. Pink Moss, who has been very ill, is now improving.

Miss Pearl Boyd, of Longview, was here last week.

Quite a number of persons went from here to Henderson last Sunday, as it was children's day at the Methodist church at that place.

Miss Lula Dickerson has returned from a visit to Miss Versa Southall, in your city.

Most of the young people in this neighborhood attended the Elks' Carnival in your city last week.

The wind did considerable damage Saturday afternoon. Mr. Robt. Brame's barn was seriously damaged and fences and trees were blown down.

Mrs. P. E. Sherrill went to the Carnival in your city Thursday. Her horse became unmanageable and that frightened another team which ran off and crashed into her buggy, causing her to fall to the pavement. She was painfully but not seriously hurt.

Miss Lou Sherrill is going to Big Rock, Tenn., to visit, this week.

Mr. Tandy McGee has been very ill. Mr. F. M. Girard has also been sick.

BRILLIANT RECORD OF A NEWSPAPER MAN.

The success which has attended William E. Curtis, the famous correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, is rarely attained by newspaper writers. Beginning his career in Chicago in 1872 as reporter he rapidly rose to the position of managing editor. He resigned that position on receiving a government appointment as Secretary of the South American commission. Mr. Curtis traveled extensively in Central and South America while in this position, producing several popular volumes as the result of his literary labors. Afterward co-operating with Secretary of State Jas. J. Blaine, Mr. Curtis organized the work of the bureau of American republics, with the result that he was placed in charge of that organization, and at the World's Columbian Exposition he distinguished himself by his labors as the executive head of the Latin-American department. As correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald Mr. Curtis' travels have carried him into every section of the United States as well as to all quarters of the globe. His China and Japan letters were published in book form like his letters from England, Germany and France, as well as those written during his travels in Mexico and South America.

No newspaper correspondent possesses the facility shown by Mr. Curtis in writing on any of the diversified subjects embraced in his correspondence and making it luminous. Nor is any correspondent followed so closely year after year by the thousands of readers of the Chicago Record-Herald. On his recent trip to the Holy Land Mr. Curtis' letters have been read more closely than ever, and his descriptions of that interesting section of the globe as it appears to day have been quoted everywhere.

A daily letter from Mr. Curtis appears in the Chicago Record-Herald.

J. C. Williams, Attica, N. Y.

All serious lung troubles begin with a tickling in the throat. You can stop this at first in a single night with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Use it also for bronchitis, consumption, hard colds, and for coughs of all kinds.

There comes a time, enough for an ordinary cold; but, just after for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard cold, etc., it is most economical for chronic cases and for all kinds of lung troubles.

MAJOR CRUMBAUGH

Says He Has Been Given Assurance of Retention in Office.

Major S. R. Crumbaugh, United States Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels, with headquarters in this city, is again at his desk after a few days' stay in Washington, where he went to look into the report that he is to lose his job and be succeeded by one of several applicants who are reported to be after it "as soon as his term expires." He is not appointed for any definite term, but is to hold on until his successor is named and qualified. Major Crumbaugh states that he was told to go back home and not worry, and was given other assurance that he would not be molested. It is said that he has the entire Kentucky delegation in Congress back of him to retain him in his present position, which pays $3,000 per year.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this Light Cough Remedy. Our oldest girl would call whooping for cough any day last winter.—JESSIE PINKNEY HALL, Springfield, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by C. K. Wily.

GIRLS IN RHYME.

Miss Newman's Poetic Tribute to B. F. C. Young Ladies.

The following poem, written by Miss Ione Newman and published in "The Kalozeitic Chimes," the society paper of Bethel Female College, will be read with interest by the friends of the various young ladies mentioned in the verses: Kalozeitic Girls.

The greatest minds of male or men And those who have gained notoriety Have always had their names enrolled In some kind of College Society.

So the best of Bethel College girls— Those noted for worth and piety— Are found as you will clearly see, In the Kalozeitic Society.

Miss Drake, so very bright and sweet, Whom we always like to meet Will make her lovers' hearts rejoice By the tuneful sound of her soulful voice.

Miriam, sweet Miriam! What more can I say Of the dear pupil-teacher we so every day? There will be music wherever she goes Of this we're assured by who well knows.

Funding-fund, what will she be? Heart full of laughter, too eager for gloe, She's often removed for talking in school And thus disturbing the study hall rule.

Ione Soyars, ever true and wise, Charming all with her wondrous eyes, Will, we hope for many a year, Answer to the roll call "Here."

A mingling of the snow drops fair, And roses red beyond compare, Will be found, with eyes so bright, In modest, charming Lucy White.

Georgia Rushing, the parson's daughter, Ayer's dress just what she "oughter;" Duty her watchword, unswerving life, She'll make for some man, a most excellent wife.

Carrie Baker, true and kind, All hearts with loving the dew bind, May she happy be as the years go past, 'Till the haven of rest is reached at last.

How we all love Kate Baker, Demure at times as any angel, She's just the girl to win a man— Follow her closely all who can.

Jeannie Graham, with rosiest bloom, And complexion radiant as the South, Combines the witchery and art, That always comes from a loving heart.

Sweet Dell Gaines, our studious girl, Wisdom's banner will ever unfurl, And always be a duty's call— Though examination her heart appall.

Nannie Stowe, so sweet and fair, With deep blue eyes and golden hair, Wins her way to every heart, By trying always to do her part.

Ethel Frost, the society belle, Her beaux are legion and—well, It is the last, I wonder, the favored one, Or is she the last, "just for fun?"

Edith Allen has talent for art, But in other things she's just as smart, So for her I predict a brilliant career, And I've sure she will have it, so have no fear.

Ella Shaw the poet of the class, (May I hope her heart has) Is modest of mien and fair to behold, Her heart true as gold.

Dear Francis knows no other fun— We'll miss her pleasant face most full— May her future years be blest, And give to her the needed rest.

Faithful, charming Mary Wright, With merry smile and heart so bright, In all her classes stands No. 1— And yet, she's always ready for fun.

Look over there at dark-eyed Della! Shall I ever hope to see her? Married? Yes, not once but twice, And the men all know what's nice.

Myrtle, modest and ever shy, Is fond of asking the question "why?" Not a bad thing, as you'll agree, She's charming too, "just for fun."

Mable Hill with dignity blends, Easily takes her place with the rest, She will, I know, make a name with her pen, If she can say "No" to those lovelorn men.

Mary Wiles of modest grace, With her bonny radiant face, Sweet of nature, bright of mind, Wins by always being kind.

Patty Taylor ever bright, Always ready to do the right, A favorite is and, as a rule, The jolliest girl in all the school.

Ida Schaefer with winning grace, Bright of mien and bright of face, Ready with blows from a heart of good cheer, We'll hold her in memory ever dear.

Jessie, once so gay and bright, Seems to be in a dreamy plight, She's grave and modest and meek as a dove— Don't mention it please, but I think she's in love.

Katie Hop of modest mien, As sweet a girl as I've seen, Has a loyal heart as pure as gold, With a mind of wisdom all around.

Louise Carr, our latest addition, With mind and heart in splendid condition, Gives to all a pleasant surprise, With complexion fair and brown eyes.

Sara Taylor, the best of girls, Charms us all with heart-brown curls, We find there a neat-faithful and true, Kind to friends both old and new.

Here is a girl so honest-hearted, 'Twill give us pain when we are parted; To think of another so dear would be folly, She's good, she's sweet—above all she's Polly.

Elizabeth Wilson, gentle and mild, Gladdens all hearts by her charming smile, And there's one who thinks of her just as I do— I know him, but I shan't tell you.

Merry, laughing Katherine Jones, Who never bothers you with groans, A favorite with every one seems to be— She's blessed with two nice brothers, see?

All girls, so full of grace and beauty, Who never flinch from call of duty, You're made for love divine and human And are dear to the heart of IONNE NEWMAN.

HIS HOME PAPER.

Handsome Send-Off Given Mr. Stanley By the Gleaner.

The question under existing conditions and the further fact that Henderson and the district may require the services of a congressman learned in the law, a man of far more than ordinary ability, a representative who can impress his thoughts upon the minds of those with whom he may have to do, we repeat, the question naturally suggests itself, what is our duty at the coming November election? We recognize the fact (and we had fully intended to adhere to it) that a Democratic newspaper in a primary where the candidates are all deserving and all of the same political faith should take no part but allow the candidates to work out their own salvation. The Gleaner has strictly adhered to this idea, but we observe that other Democratic papers in the district have their favorite and are by no means backward in so far as it lies in their power to keep them prominently to the front, smothering them with complimentary notices of one kind and another and treating opposing candidates as though they were political opponents. We have nothing to say derogatory to the candidacy of any gentleman named for the nomination at the August primary. So far as we know and are informed they are each and everyone of them worthy, they are gentlemen, they are Democrats.

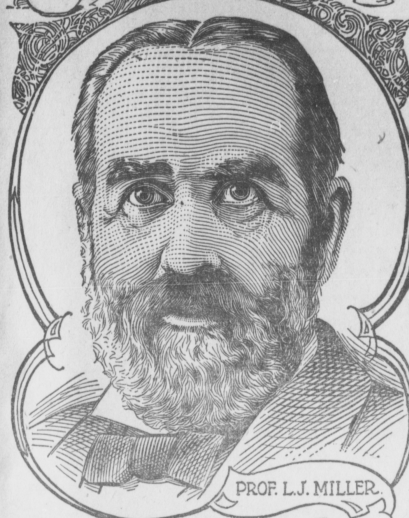

It will be admitted, however, by all men unless it be one too biased in his opinions to be a competent witness, that Henderson presents in the person of Mr. Stanley, a man known to be an expert in the law, a lawyer the equal of any in this or any other district of the state, a man of far seeing judgment, a student thoroughly grounded in the political issues of the day and an orator on the stump the equal of any who can or will be nominated by the Republicans. To bear out this statement in all the fullness of its meaning we can do nothing better than repeat a conversation had in the Gleaner office after a political debate held in the old tabernacle a few years since when Mr. Stanley was called on to measure strength with Mr. Caldwell, a Republican convert from Louisville, Captain of the 1st Regt. of Cavalry, William T. Ellis, of Owensboro, walked rapidly into the Gleaner office, apparently elated and with approving smiles congratulated the editor and requested to be quoted as having said that no such speech had been made since the days of Henry Clay as that made by young Stanley. "I tell you sir, he is an orator worthy of the reputation and will make his impress upon the politics of the State. He is simply splendid, the equal of any and the superior of many with established reputation." Mr. Ellis showed that he meant all that he said, and certainly no one doubts Captain Ellis ability to "size up" an orator and man of brains. Henderson and the district, may we say, need the services of such a representative in Congress. Mr. Stanley is full of energy, has an aptitude for making friends and is universally popular. We may need such timber to confront the Republican nominee and with Mr. Stanley as our standard bearer we know our cause is safe. These are points the Democracy of the district should consider well.—Henderson Gleaner.

What another paper says of him. Although recognized for some time as a logical candidate, the many friends in this county of the Hon. A. O. Stanley will note with no limited degree of pleasure his formal announcement for Congress, which appears in this morning's issue of The Telegram. Mr. Stanley needs little introduction to the people of Union county; in fact, his frequent visits to this county, both on professional duty and in answer to the frequent demands made upon him in the past to come to the support of his party, have allied him closely with the good people of Henderson's sister county. On numerous occasions in the past, calls have been made upon Mr. Stanley to come to Union county, to raise his voice in Democracy's defense, and each call has been answered without hesitancy. His brilliant services along this line, not only in Union county, but throughout the entire district, and it may well be said, throughout the State, has been

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

Reveals That "Pe-ru-na" is Calculated to Tone up the System, Restore the Functions and Procure Health.

SO SAYS PROF. L. J. MILLER, CHEMIST.

Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes from 327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows: "As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents. "I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health. "I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."—PROF. L. J. MILLER.

of telling benefit to his party. He has never received any compensation for his long services, rendered so willingly to his party, and it is but natural that his friends should feel that the district should reward him for his labors.

Personally Mr. Stanley is a gentleman of pleasing social qualities, possessing the highest mental vigor. Although a young man, his marked ability has been the ground for so rapid and successful rise in his profession, the law, surmounting all difficulties, and by his indomitable courage and energy overcoming all difficulties, that he is now recognized as one of the foremost practitioners in the district, and his ability as an orator is recognized beyond the boundaries of his own State. He has ever been loyal to the principles of Democracy, and would prove an able champion of the Second Congress in the halls of Congress. Should he be given the Democratic nomination, his friends claim, and they do so with good grounds, that he would prove one of the ablest officials the Second district ever had.—Uniontown Telegram.

Several nights since, lightning struck the residence of Harry G. ## "Builds up the System."

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system."

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes: "I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to."

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes: "I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna."

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

ENFORCES THE LAW.

New York's New District Attorney
Surprises Politicians.

Under His Direction Saloons Are Closed on Sundays and Gam-
blers Are Watched So That Their Trade Is Ruined.

Among those recently elected to office in New York city on the anti-Tammany ticket there is no more interesting and striking figure than William Travers Jerome, the new district attorney. What makes him of so much significance is that his new office is one of the most powerful in the United States, and that he has indicated a willingness to tackle problems which up to date the ordinary public official has preferred to leave alone.

Jerome comes of an old New York family of influence and social position. A life of leisure and comfort, spent in the pursuit of the gratification of his literary and artistic tastes, might easily have been his, but he has chosen rather to use all his native power and energy for the political betterment of his native city.

Born in New York city in 1859, and being while young in delicate health, he received his early education from private tutors. He later attended Wilketon seminary in Easthampton, Mass., for one year, and then entered Amherst college with the class of '82. Unable to finish his college course on account of his health, he returned to New York and began the study of law. He was finally graduated from the law school of Columbia university in 1884, and in the spring of that year was admitted to the New York bar. Mr. Jerome then formed a partnership with a college friend, Daniel Mason, and practiced until '88, when as a democrat of democratic ancestry he was appointed a deputy assistant to the district attorney by Col. Fellows, at that time the successful Tammany incumbent.

JUNE 11 And 12

Hood Farm Auction Sale of Jerseys and Berkshires.

Hood farm, Lowell, Mass., is so well known to the readers of this paper that it is not necessary to go into details in regard to the high quality of the stock owned at that great breeding establishment. June 11 and 12, 1902, they will sell to the highest bidder 180 head of Jersey cattle and 125 Berkshire hogs. This is the greatest sale of the kind ever held in New England. There is such a large number and many of the calves are so young, that those who do not wish to pay the high prices usually brought by registered stock will be able to get some very desirable individuals at a great bargain. Every dairyman and farmer can afford to get something to enrich his herd, either a bull, a heifer or a pig. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Those who cannot go, but have friends who will attend should commission them to use their judgment in selecting something from these famous herds. The catalogue, which Hood Farm has published, gives a great deal of information to those interested in Jerseys and Berkshires, and it is a work of art. It will be sent to all who write for it.

JUNE FORECAST.

Much Rain Predicted and Harvesters May Suffer.

Heavy Hail Storm, With Sudden Change to Cooler Over Many Sections.

The following is a summary of the weather forecasts for June as figured out by Hicks:

The regular Vulcan storm period is central on the 1st, extending to 5th. The presence of the Mercury disturbance will prolong the Vulcan period, causing cloudy, threatening and rainy weather, perhaps, into the reactionary storms central on the 6th and 7th. The Moon will be in perigee or nearest Earth, on the 5th, and at its north extreme and new moon on the 6th. These facts are sure to increase the tendency to high temperatures, fluctuating barometric pressures, storms, and very likely seismic unrest in many parts of the Earth. The annual tendency to electrical and seismic disturbances from about the 10th to near the end of June will be increased this month by the causes enumerated above. At the Vulcan storm period, central on the 13th, and covering the 9th to 16th, an excess of lightning, with many thunder squalls, solstice downpours of rain in many limited localities, with scattering tornadoic storms and seismic disturbances, will be most natural. Heavy hail storms, and marked, sudden changes to very cool, may be regarded as certain in many sections, especially in the central, western and north-western parts of the country, from about the 11th to 15th, centering on and next to the 13th, the date of the Moon's passage over the celestial equator. A few days and nights of much cooler weather will follow the storms of this central Vulcan period.

During the 19th to 21st inclusive, marked storm conditions will return. The temperature will rise to high readings, the barometer will fluctuate and fall, cloudiness and humidity will increase, and more storms of rain, thunder and wind will pass eastward over the continent. All through this part of June there will be an abnormal tendency to constant and startling displays of lightning. From Thursday the 23rd, to Friday the 27th, will be a period of severe and prolonged perturbations, during which days the daily thunder storms beginning about the 20th in most parts of the country, will reach their culminating stages in many storms of rain, hail, wind and thunder. Some of the greatest downpours of rain for the summer, amounting to cloud-bursts in many quarters, may be reasonably looked for about this time. Continued showers, with local water spouts probable here and there, will entail great inconvenience and loss upon harvesters.

ONLY 32 BILLS.

Grand Jury Fails to Indict Slayer of Bridges.

Cadiz, Ky., May 28.—The grand jury of Trigg county adjourned yesterday afternoon, after a seven days' session. Thirty-five indictments were returned; the smallest number returned by any grand jury for years. All were for misdemeanor.

The grand jury failed to indict John Thomas, who is in jail charged with the murder of Alfred Bridges.

Eight were for indicting him for voluntary manslaughter. Judge Cook made an order this afternoon, continuing Thomas in the custody of the jailer until the next meeting of the grand jury in September.

Died in Owensboro.

Mr. Joseph McCarroll, Sr., of this county, died in Owensboro a few days ago, while on a visit to his son Chas. F. McCarroll. He sustained a fall on the pavement, and was taken to the city hospital for treatment, where he died. He was 80 years old.

Don't Wait Until Fall TO BEGIN TO BUILD.

It takes a month or more to get the plan question settled, and the best houses can not be built in a hurry. A house built in the winter is seldom satisfactory, and a fall beginning means a winter ending. Furthermore, prices on all materials are generally higher in the fall. Then too, most people wait till then to build, and work brings a higher price when there is a great deal of it. Hence you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by building in the Spring and Summer.
